

Lunar Test Facility: Information Gathering

An important step of the problem-based learning process is the information gathering phase. Using the questions from the Know and Need to Know chart, complete the following table. Complete as many tables as you have questions.

Need to Know Question	Information to Answer the Question	Citation and Resource